CHARITY INDUSTRY

Globally, almost everyone gives to charity at least once per year, with 50% of donors providing aid to strangers. The total amount of documented donations in the United States reached $400 billion. Individuals were the greatest source of charitable giving in 2019, accounting for $309.66 billion or 69 percent of overall giving. In four of the last five years, charitable giving by individuals has grown, and two-thirds have donated money to multiple charity foundations.

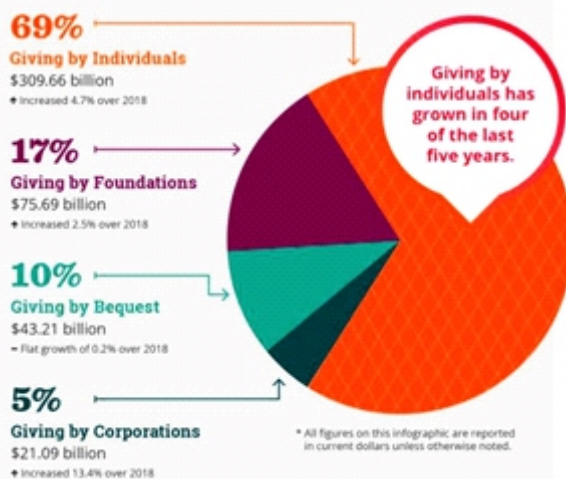

At a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 2%, the worldwide charity organizations market is anticipated to expand from $279.81 billion in 2020 to $285.5 billion in 2021. Companies are restructuring their operations and recuperating from the impact of COVID-19, which had previously resulted in restrictive containment measures including social distance, remote working, and the termination of commercial activities, all of which posed operational problems. At a CAGR of 7%, the market is anticipated to reach $369.6 billion in 2025.

In some countries, charitable donations represent a significant proportion of the overall economy. In Europe, the British have the largest number of donors, and according to various data sources: 70% of the country's residents transfer money to support humanitarian projects. Germany, Japan, and France are among the countries where citizens actively participate in charitable giving.

IMPORTANCE OF CHARITY

Donating to causes you care about benefits, not just the charity, but it may also be extremely satisfying for you. Millions of people donate to charity on a daily basis to support causes they believe in and to benefit their own lives.

So why is giving to charity so important? Listed below are some of the reasons to donate to your charities of choice.

Increased personal values

The most common motivation for donating to charity was a sense of social conscience. In a recent survey, about 92 out of 100 people said they felt they had a moral duty to use what they had to help others, a sentiment very much rooted in their personal values and principles.

Having the ability to enhance the lives of others is a privilege for many people, as well as a responsibility. Acting on these powerful feelings of responsibility help people reinforce their values and feel like they are living in a way that is true to their own ethical beliefs.

Increased Status

From the creation of show-business and mass media, charity has become a question of status. Today, anyone participating in charity is rehabilitating their position in the community — it reveals the importance and nobleness of charities in our society today. That is why we see many celebrities, politicians, and wealthy people donating their funds to charity - not just to help people but also to raise and reaffirm their status in the community.

Encourages Friends and Family to Do Likewise

Charitable donations can inspire your nearest and dearest to give to causes important to them and could even bring about a family-wide effort to back charities that have special significance to them as a group.

More so, charity creates a bond, helping to strengthen relationships through a shared goal and raising more money than could otherwise be possible through individual donations.

THE PROBLEM

Majority of the new coins created every day creates uncertainty within the crypto space. Naturally, most currencies are designed with a system that rewards the "whales" and funding their wallets with unequal spread to everyone else in the community.

Despite the rise of new mechanisms for donating, the charity industry still finds it hard to overcome its main obstacle — a lack of trust. Donors, the majority of whom are individuals, simply lack the means to verify that their donations have arrived in whole and within the specified timeframe, even if they use specialized organizations to transfer the funds. According to various sources, about 20% (or more) of all donated funds are kept as administrative expenses by charity foundations.

Blockchain technologies are being developed and developing now in the way of finances, fiat-to-crypto transactions, applications development, etc. With this kind of diversity on the market, donors still find it hard to fund charity organizations in need.

The technology used in the charitable sector is currently at a low level. Individuals and corporations who are willing to donate money often alter their minds for a variety of reasons, including:

- Ø Lack of trust in charities owing to the absence of any official international organizations to evaluate their work; Doubts about whether the donation will reach the beneficiary in full and on time
- Ø The complexity of cross-border donation for projects and potential issues in dealing with regulatory agencies; Unable to discern any additional benefits when donating.

Listed below are some other challenges which Comic coin plan on addressing in its launch:

- lack of trust;
- Lack of technical equipment;
- Ineffective marketing strategy;
- Lack of good motivational factor.

As new problems arise, new solutions will surface, and Comic coin believes that the cryptocurrency universe is a breeding ground for new, decentralized, innovative, and community-led systems that are sure to bring coherent responses to the world's most challenging issues. We are ensuring a global restructuring in the charity industry.

Comic coin is a charity token with a robust strategy designed to maximize profitability for donors and globally reach social impact. All the donations will be processed by smart contracts developed through the Binance Smart Chain technology on our platform.

Comic coin aims to create a virtual art museum using submitted art, create an app where users can have access to update on the latest released artworks and comics. More so, we will support turning comics into animated short videos and creating a platform similar to Netflix but for indie artists.

By using our platform, users will have access to the following:

Ø Low Cost

Comic coin will provide donors new to crypto access to pay via Fiat currencies. However, users using the Comic coin will have unlimited access at a lower cost.

Ø Efficiency

With the Comic coin platform, donors can now track how their donations are being used to redistribute wealth. All records on the platform are safe and secured, providing traceable account show the inflow and outflow of funds through the ecosystem.

Ø User's Experience

Our main aim is to make all the benefits of the Binance Smart Chain accessible to the community. Through the use of smart contracts, we are designing a visually responsive, transparent, secured, and user-friendly interface for donors to have access to a seamless experience while making donations on our platform. In addition, access to offers and information will be organized and presented in a simplified manner on our platform.

WHY CHOOSE COMIC COIN

- ✓ As the number of donors and the scope of cooperation within the Comic coin ecosystem increases, so do the value and popularity of the token.
- ✓ Comic coin allows coin holders to hold and sell their coins on a crypto exchange.
- ✓ Ability to use Fiat currencies for payment for users new to crypto.

DONATION TRACKING SIMPLIFIED

The Comic coin platform connects directly to the Binance Smart Chain to track Comic coin transactions, ensuring complete transparency on the use of the donated funds and providing relevant information such as donation amount, timestamp, donor and recipient details. The team will be developing an advanced tracking system that will allow donors to have unlimited access to receive notifications for every step of the donation flow.

Through the Comic ecosystem, local artists and writers will also be able to input off-chain data on the Binance Smart Chain manually. If an artist declares that the funds will be used to acquire equipment, the artist will be required to upload receipts for the supplies within the duration specified, and everything will be recorded on-chain.

The information can be recorded automatically or manually on the BSC, which will be immutable and publicly accessible, thereby increasing the level of transparency on the platform.
